
Fire

Posted by mrtk4129 - 2008/05/30 06:54

:(I'm so sorry that you have to deal with this horrible incident. Please know that we 'junkies' are sending good wishes your way and that we will do whatever we can to help in any way that we can.
I, for one, will be purchasing more yarn. Although I know that will deplete the available supply, I know that what you need now is cash and if we buy you will receive funds.
My prayers are with you, the employees and all of your families during this difficult time. May malabrigo's recovery be speedy and smooth !
Marty knits on

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by Abandonada - 2008/05/30 08:14

My heart is with all members of the Malabrigo family tonight. I hope everyone is safe.

Buena suerte, mis amigos.*

Con cariÃ±o,
Abandonada

*Good luck, my friends.

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by zzwhitejd - 2008/05/30 20:14

Indeed! My prayers are with you and your families. I hope for a speedy recovery. Please let us 'junkies' know if we can do anything for you and yours.

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by dcknitting - 2008/05/31 04:21

What a heartbreaking loss. Wool/yarns always seem so comforting. I hope that you and your family can get some comfort from the process of recovering from this loss and creating more of what we all love.

Let us know if and how we can help.

Deirdre

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by Tobias - 2008/05/31 18:05

Thank you all VERY MUCH for your support, fortunately there were no fatalities as the fire started at 10 â€” 11 P:M on Wednesday and the building is an industrial facility so there was no one there.
As the mill is in a decent condition we will be able to dye as soon as we are let back into the building and we have electricity. The problem is that until Monday or Tuesday we will not know if the building will be cleared for use at all.

We are already searching for new locations for the warehouse, so the moment we start production we can start packing and shipping again.

The insurance should cover for at least part of the yarn lost, it will not cover of course for the time lost recovering from this nor the work and love put into the building and the yarn.

We will try to get back to normal as soon as possible, it will take time though. AS the saying goes, all is for good, and Iâ€™m sure that given time we will be able to find some good out of all this.

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by FreeRangeKnitter - 2008/05/31 18:35

I hope everyone is safe. Our thoughts are and prayers are with you during this unfortunate time.

Best Wishes,
FreeRangeKnitter

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by KnittedZebra - 2008/06/02 06:03

So glad to know there were no fatalities. Our prayers are with you as you try to restore you business. I bought extra Malabrigo today in my effort to continue to support you.

Take care,
Delores aka KnittedZebra

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by KnittedZebra - 2008/06/02 06:03

So glad to know there were no fatalities. Our prayers are with you as you begin to restore you business. I bought extra Malabrigo today in my effort to continue to support you.

Take care,
Delores aka KnittedZebra

=====

Re:Fire

Posted by jennipurl - 2008/09/14 18:03

I was devastated to hear about the fire. By en large, Malabrigo is my absolute FAVORITE yarn to knit with. I haven't knit all summer, so when I went to my yarn shop to stock up last week, I heard about the fire. The store was sold out of my favorite color (lettuce), and they only had a couple skeins in other colors. I bought what I could, but am awaiting a new shipment to the store so I can buy more!

=====