It was wonderful to read your blog and learn that you are up and running again. :woohoo: Many good wishes are being sent your way for a smooth and speedy restart. You have a very devoted following and we will all be buying more mmmmal to help. My LYS ordered and prepaid at TNNA so I'll be buying more to make room for the new order when it comes in!

Congratulations and best wishes ~

We're happy that you are starting to recuperate from this fire! You all have been in our thoughts since we learned the news. Hang in there!

Oh how good that you can work again! It will still be a lot of hustle with insurance, catching up, etc. so I still wish you strength and luck with everything!
